

Good day!

I would like to apply as a Mechanical Engineer. I am a graduate of BS in Mechanical Engineering with Concentration in Mechatronics Engineering in De La Salle University - Manila. I am also adept in Microsoft, Adobe, and CADD programs (especially SolidWorks and AutoCAD).

I have worked at Powertech Asia Pacific before as a Research and Development Specialist. Under the R&D, I was assigned to conceptualize, develop, and manage the fabrication of the product prototype. Today, I am working as a Project Specialist at Alpine Opus Technologies Corporation in Metro Manila. I currently help manage install HVAC projects around various parts of the Philippines.

I am available for Skype interview and I will also be in Singapore around late August to early September.

I have also attached my CV. If you need more details, you may contact me by email at steven.enc@gmail.com or by phone at +639456217853. Thank you very much. I look forward to your response.
